Dear Mr. Brewer,

This responds to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request, dated October 16, 2021 that you submitted to the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) for information concerning: A copy of the document titled "Utah Ranch Investigation: August 2009-February 2010". The document was referenced in the purportedly nonfiction book "Skinwalkers at the Pentagon" in which former DIA Program Manager James T. Lacatski is credited as a co-author. The requested document is described as a 360-page report delivered to DIA in 2010. I apologize for the delay in responding to your request as DIA continues its efforts to eliminate the large backlog of pending requests.

Based on the information contained in your request, DIA searched its systems of records for responsive documents. Despite a thorough search, no documents responsive to your request were found.

Please be advised that DIA is currently conducting a review of all its AATIP holdings and preparing those documents for release via the DIA website. Upon DIA release, the documents will be available for viewing in the FOIA Reading Room at URL:
<https://www.dia.mil/FOIA/FOIA-Electronic-Reading-Room/>.
